The question naturally arises here, if Mr. Lyles and his fac-Hanahan and his faction bolt in 1894 if they think they are justifiable? But he denies that we were "kicked out of the State Convention in a partisan manner." I will content myself by stating what Mr Lyle's "man of destiny," said about the transaction; he said at the time, and since, that the Tillman delegations from Sumter and Fairfield had not made good titles to their seats and "didn't have a dbit of business in there" and he will not dare to deny it now. Mr. Lyles is now convinced of course, that he is in error here and will no doubt correct his remarks should he write again "We left the chairman presiding over the tail of a convention, empty benches and sad faces" says Mr. Lyles. Except in one particular we agree again. I thought then it was the "tail" that went out, in the light of subsequent events I now know the head remained The benches vacated by the absconding Tillmanites were "empty" of course, and there were certainly "sad faces." I never had a sadder heart than, when I saw Mr. Lyles reckless your duty, for if we have bolted it has of consequences and jubilant at the idea of working in the lead, ca rying good but blind men from that Court House, in obedience to orders which had to keep from participating in the pribeen sent here, and in accordance with mary as we did in '92. Some excuse a programme which had been arranged up to that time, for Gov. Tillman, the before he came into the meeting. AN APPEAL TO DEMOCRATS.

FELLOW DEMOCRATS: The sixth of November, the day of the general election, is near at hand and I hope all true Democrats will realize the imporance of a tending the election.

There are grave issues to be settled, among which a censtitutional convention is to be voted on and a Democratic ticket to be elected. - Let us roll up such a majority as will show the Populists that Democracy in old Fairfield still reigns supreme regardless of tricks set to destroy her by enemies assuming her name.

We are accused by our enemies as being bolters and independents. Don't let that deter and keep you from doing been from the Populi-t party and we are thankful that we realized it in time claimed to be a Democrat. He had not then declared his purpose to go governor who signed a pledge to disregard the Democratic caucuses and the Democratic nominations in obedience to the requirements; of the Alliance desands. Then there was hope that a split among the white people could be avoided by submission and concession that harmony would be gradually restored, but the develop-
